Do Your Bit for the Red Shield

An honorable, distinguished and unique part has been played by the Salvation Army in its war work.

Mr. F. A. Mackenzie, as well known in Canada especially by his recent book "Canada's Day of Glory," published by William Briggs of Toronto, has recently done in the honor of giving us first hand what he has seen of the Salvation Army work in France and England:

"I have had opportunity both in France and in England, but more especially in France, of seeing some of the admirable work done by the Salvation Army for our troops."

"In this work of helping the fighting men, tending the sick and wounded, and comforting the sorrowing and desolate, the Salvation Army has borne an honorable distinguished, and in many ways a unique part. Both the British and Canadian branches of the Salvation Army have not been idle to all they would like, because owing to some official difficulties they have not been able to send their workers up to the front lines. The Americans have been more fortunate. When I was with the American army in Lorraine in the spring, the praise of the Salvation Army girl there was on all lips—her doughnuts and her pies had won the goodwill of the fighting men. I do not know if she preached to the boys; I never heard of her doing so. But she sewed on their buttons, mended their uniforms, and gave them a welcome when they got back in the support lines from the fighting trenches."

"The same work has been done on a considerable scale by the British and Canadian S. A. organizations, working along the lines in France from Dunkirk to Le Havre. Your people started here by feeding the soldier. Now I can quite understand that some people who have not been out of Canada may ask why we place such emphasis on feeding. In Canada food is so abundant that everyone takes it as a matter of course. I have been amazed since landing here, on days ago, at the abundance, the richness, the variety of your food. To tell the truth, sometimes when I sit down to the dinner table in my hotel, it seems as if the food would choke me, when I think that my wife and children, away in London, are on narrow, closely considered rations, with nothing to spare. I know the people of Canada would, if they could, eat their food in halves to send it to the people at home and to the boys at the front, just as they have made so many other splendid sacrifices. But you cannot do that because there are no ships to spare to take further foodstuffs over. In England and in France food is limited. In the military camps they gather up the very grease from the dishwasher to turn it into other uses."

"A poor man is given more in at a single course in Toronto than the King of England himself has for a week's rations. It sounds hard to believe, but it is true."

"Give Ye Them to Eat"

Three times a day we enjoy our food in this favored land—enough and to spare. None of us have known the pangs of hunger during these awful years. But you live in the land that gave us our Lord, throughout Syria and Armenia, millions are destitute and starving. Four million refugees are dependent upon the American continent to save them from death by starvation. Four hundred thousand children, mostly orphans, are doomed to die if we do not respond speedily, and out of our plenty spare them enough at least to keep life in their bodies.

The Sunday schools of North America have been asked to give $20,000,000 towards this end, and our share in Canada is $200,000 of that amount. The executive committee of the Religious Education Council of Canada, representing all denominations, is directing the campaign in the schools of our land. Every dollar given will go direct to the feeding of these hungry millions, as every item of the necessary expenses of the campaign is being met by the generosity of a wealthy citizen, who counts it a privilege to do this for humanity's sake.

The date set for the appeal and offering is January 19th, which is the old Armenian Christmas. Every school has already received letters and circulars conveying the offering, and all instructions as to submitting the returns. Information is being given prior to this date so that every member of the Sunday schools may have a chance to make a special effort in this cause. Plan to give through your local school, which will remit all contributions to D. C. Cameron, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, Ontario, who is treasurer of the Canadian committee. "Inasmuch as we have done it into one of the best of these, we have done it into you."

Believing that many outside of our Sunday schools would like to contribute to this very needy cause, offerings will be received both morning and evening on the above named Sunday in the Methodist church, Clareholm.

Work for High School Students

Grade XII—Students will carefully read excerpts of History and Literature that was mailed to them. Memorize the leading points. On the reopening of school they will be expected to intelligently discuss constitutional history from modern political conditions. Essays should be written on all the most important topics. Students are asked to note and keep records of difficult and complex questions dealing with the British constitution. Follow the plan of the synopsis of the Corn Laws. Students will obtain these speeches at the drug store.

Grade XI—Students who have not yet obtained the synopsis of Grecian History should get these without delay, from students of higher grade, and with the help of the synopsis write the essays detailed in last week's issue of The Review-Advertiser; also read carefully Roman History, paying particular attention to the chief movements, e.g., Formation of a Republic, Widespread of the Franchise, The Empire, etc. In Literature students will make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the texts: "Grear," "Fut," look up the allusions and memorize the passages.

Grade IX and X—Grammar—Students of IX and X will prepare written answers to all the exercises on Verbs and nouns.

History X—Write complete answers to questions on topics 7 and 8. History IX—Write essays on The Great Civil War: 1. Causes; 2. Campaigns; 3. Results; The Commonwealth.

Biology IX—Prepare written answers to questions on Grasshopper, Housefly, and Ant.

Biology X—Prepare written answers to questions on Birds, and Animals.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 6—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, died in his sleep early today at his home on Sagamore Hill in this village. The immediate cause of death was pulmonary embolism, or lodgment in the lung of a blood clot from a broken vein, as stated by one of his physicians.

Little capital is required to grow a few hogs and the profits come quickly.

Save—help yourself and Canada by investing in war savings stamps.

A man can combine patriotism and profit by increasing and improving his stocks and bonds.

If every person who is in a financial position to do so will head a few dollars to the government by investing in war savings stamps, it means millions to the government, helps to finance the war debt, and helps to maintain our national prosperity.

Thrift is Patriotic Common Sense

Hon. T. W. McCarry, Provincial Treasurer for the province of Ontario, is a firm believer in the gospel of thrift and a strong supporter of the War Savings Stamp Campaign. In a recent statement he says:—

"Years of progress and prosperity have tended—quite naturally—to make Canadians forgetful of the line, homely virtue of Thrift which was so admirable a trait in the character of our Canadian pioneers. As a people we do not know what Thrift means, as it is understood in Great Britain and Europe—the small daily personal economies which enable a man not only to live within his income, whatever it may be, but to save something every year, and which in the aggregate makes a nation rich. France (prior to the war) is a striking example of a nation made rich by individual thrift.

"Today Canada is facing a big war debt incurred in defending our country from a ruthless foe. We have got to foot the bill in one way or another, and what easier or more profitable way than by saving our money and lending it at good interest to the Government in the form of War Savings Stamps? Thrift is patriotic common sense. Small investments in government securities have been the foundation of many a fortune, and the War Savings Stamp system ought to garner an enormous harvest of small change from thousands, old and young, rich and poor alike."

CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Editor: I noticed in The Review-Advertiser last week an item from a correspondent. Well, I knew a little incident that I'd happen on the South Fork a few weeks ago: Steve was out hunting as usual. He used to live on the South Fork and got his coat out of an old mine there just the same as all the rest of the people that lived there did. So on this particular day in coming home he was wearing he strode over to the old mine to see how it looked, and to his surprise the hole was filled up with sticks and grass and leaves, and he got scared, because he could smell bear—grizzly of course; so he came running to camp, which was two miles away. We gave him a little cold tea to fetch him round so he could tell us what was the matter with him, coming in like that. So he told us about the bear taking possession of the old coal mine, but he would not allow us to go to the old mine that night, as grizzlies are very dangerous on the South Fork. He told us that night that on one occasion he saw a grizzly and climbed a tree. He knew he was safe, but after the old bear saw where he was the bear went down to the creek and got a beaver on his back and soon the beaver had the tree cut down, but Steve got away, so he says.

So when morning came we all marched with Steve, he in the lead of course, and when we got near about two hundred yards Steve cocked his gun and went up very quietly and of course we were going to give him the first shot. He could smell bear all the time, but when he fired about six times in this old mine we knew the bear must be dead, so Steve stood with cocked gun while we pulled the sticks out of the old mine, and to our surprise it was an old pack rat, not O.K.

Don't Hurry

One must eat in the sweat of one's brow.

It's sad, but it's certainly true: Yet I don't wish to do it just now, As it's rather unpleasant to do. I am willing to eat, but to work!

Well, it's not an original plan: Work may be unavoidable, yet— Put it off just as long as you can.

You must buy what you happen to need.

But you're somehow expected to pay.

You may woo a fair maiden indeed, But you're likely to marry none.

It is right, you should pay what is due:

Matrimony is good for a man; But take our advice, my good fellow,

Put it off just as long as you can.

We shall find as we journey through life.

There are things that have got to be done.

Which entail lots of trouble and strife That the luckiest never can shun;

And at last we must all of us die.

It's a gloomy old prospect to scan, But at least our advice you may try:

Put it off just as long as you can.

Clareholm Local News

J. R. Watt was a Calgary visitor on Wednesday.

Born, on Friday, January 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Walters, a son.

Geo. Cottingham has moved into the first house east of the Methodist church.

J. Walker, manager of the Bank of Commerce at this place, left last week for a visit to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lamb, of Pincher Creek, are spending a few days on their ranch east of town.

James McKinney was in Calgary attending a meeting of the Victoria Loan Committee on Wednesday.

Stanley Ferguson and a number of others attended the Liberal convention which was held in Calgary this week.

Dr. MacRae, of Western Canada college, will preach at the Presbyterian church again next Sabbath, morning and evening.

A number of Odd Fellows went to Stately this week to assist in the instruction of several new recruits for Odd Fellowship.

The high wind on Friday evening blew part of the front of Vanhous's livery stable, but luckily no one was under when it lit.

Warren Cochlin, who has been attending the Roy Leppard family while they had the "flu," returned to Calgary on Thursday morning.

A. F. Morrison, V.S., of the Dominion Stock Branch, residing at Chesterly, Ontario, spent the week end here with his brother, D. S. Morrison.

Mayor T. D. Lewis, wife, daughter and son Glen left for Los Angeles, California, on Wednesday night, and will spend several weeks at that famous sister resort.

On Wednesday, January 22, W. S. Keeley will open his new grocery store here in the old opera house building. His announcement appears in another column.

The Red Shield funds are coming in slowly. Everybody who wishes to help in this good work should get their subscriptions in early next week at Fraser & Peck's office.

Mr. Hunt, of Calgary, is here this week making an effort to interest farmers and ranchers of this district in an independent packing and cold storage plant in that city.

A carnival was to have been held at Clareholm skating rink on Friday night this week, but unfavorable weather for ice making resulted in postponement to a later date, not yet decided upon.

John Edmund has received word that his son Carl is on the way home, coming by way of Panama. He was severely wounded while at the front and has been in hospital in England since last April.

"Hearts of the World" drew a full house at the Rex on Tuesday night, and it is not saying too much to state that the film came fully up to the expectations warranted by the advance notices. It is one of the really great films.

A curling match took place at Okotoks last Friday for the Foothills Cup. Two rinks from Clareholm took part, as follows: Moffat, Dickson, Wall, Carney, and Wyatt, Irvine, Grey, Brock. The result was two games won and two games lost.

The Review-Advertiser would have been lost Friday for the Foothills Cup. Two rinks from Clareholm took part, as follows: Moffat, Dickson, Wall, Carney, and Wyatt, Irvine, Grey, Brock. The result was two games won and two games lost.

Mrs. John Stephen, who has been at the home of her son W. J. Stephen here, left last Saturday morning for St. Marie, Ontario, called there by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of her sister and niece, from influenza. A later telegram brought word of the death of her sister.

We are reliably informed that Dr. McMillan is recommending to the Board of Health that school grades VII to XII be permitted to open on January 29. There would seem to be every probability that the Board will follow the recommendation.

Died—Roy Elgin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Elgin, of Peace River, formerly of Clareholm and Granum, died at Peace River last week from influenza. Mrs. Elgin and other members of the family are reported down with the pneumonia.

At the U. F. A. annual meeting which was held last Friday, James McKinney was elected president and R. S. Law secretary for the ensuing year. R. S. Law, W. R. Laidlaw and R. A. Shearer were elected as representatives to attend the annual convention which is to be held in Edmonton next week.

An interesting wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage at Macleod on Monday January 13th, when Elmer White, son of J. C. White, was united in matrimony to Miss Claryse Chapman. The parents of the bride and groom were both present. Rev. W. A. Lewis was the officiating clergyman. After the ceremony the young couple took the evening train to Spokane, where they will spend their honeymoon. When they return they will take up their residence on their farm east of town.

Mr. Whiston, the government representative for the hospitals scheme, was in town on Thursday investigating matters with a view to sending in his report on the situation here. A meeting was called of representative men from Granum and Clareholm and the whole matter was gone into pretty thoroughly. A resolution was passed recommending the following district with Clareholm as a center: South as far as three miles south of Granum, north to within two miles of Parkland, East to the east side of Range 25, west to the west side of Range 30. Mr. Whiston left in the afternoon to attend a meeting at Granum. The matter will now be submitted to the Minister of Hospitals who will shortly call for a vote throughout the district affected.

Killed in Action

Many in Clareholm who knew him when he was on the staff of the Bank of Commerce some eight years ago and particularly the members of the Church of England will regret to hear that Geoffrey Sunderland, Acting-Captain Second Royal Sussex Regiment, was killed in action near the close of the war. After leaving the bank here Mr. Sunderland returned to England with a view of entering the ministry and was a student at Cambridge University when the war broke out. He paid a return visit to Clareholm five years ago.

The Salvation Army, Soldiers Home Coming Campaign

The War Work and After-War
Work of the Salvation Army
"First to Serve---Last to Appeal"

If one institution in the Empire was prepared for war, it was the Salvation Army. For 53 years it has been practicing the relief of distress wherever and whenever the need arose.

And when the war came, intensifying human suffering and the need for bodily and spiritual help in a thousand ways, the Salvation Army was ready.

The entire Salvation Army has always been organized on a military basis--inured to hardship, service and service. It is always in action, day and night.

And so the twelfth day of the war found the Salvation Army at work behind the lines in Belgium. Since then it has maintained 197 Huts, 96 Hostels and 40 Rest Rooms, 1,200 uniformed workers and 90 ambulances at the front--in addition to taking care of the problems which arose here in Canada, on a result of the departure of our soldiers.

Hostels have ceased, leaving vast and complex problems--human problems--that call expressly for the sympathetic and ardent workers trained by and organized into the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army Million Dollar Fund January 11th to 20th

The war work of the Salvation Army has been conducted without any general appeal to the public for funds. While it could "carry on" without appealing, it did so. Now the crisis has arisen. The budget has been prepared for essential work during the coming year, and it has been found that a million dollars must be raised to continue the after-the-war activities, including:

Hostels for Soldiers

For our troops "consolidating" the victory in Europe; for soldiers in France in England awaiting transportation; and for returned men landing in Canada, the Salvation Army Hostels provide good food, clean beds, wholesome entertainment, at a price the soldier can afford to pay. The service of the Salvation Army, founded on sacrifice, demonstrates the true spirit of the Master and is directed to the extension of the Kingdom of Christ.

Visitation of War Families

The misery endured by helpless families of our soldiers by reason of debt, sickness and misfortune is alleviated by the relief work of the Salvation Army workers, who realize that immediate action is necessary to provide for the present need and to prepare for future need.

Demobilization

Through its Hostels maintained throughout Canada, the Salvation Army is already assisting vitally in the repatriation of our soldiers, especially those who have returned with no homes to go to, and those who are looking for a new start in life. The discharged soldier must not be turned adrift and the Salvation Army has already proven indispensable in dealing with phases of the situation not provided for by the Government or any other organization.

Care of the Wives, Widows, Dependents and Orphans of Soldiers

The Salvation Army operates Emergency Receiving and Maternity Homes for the care of those whom the soldier leaves behind him. The widows and orphans alone present a vast and complex problem that needs the human touch of the Salvation Army.

Your earnest co-operation is needed. For two generations the Salvation Army has stood out and out for God. It approaches practical problems in a practical way and achieves RESULTS.

"LET YOUR GRATITUDE FIND EXPRESSION IN SERVICE."
